As the period for public comment comes to a close, I am writing as a mother of 2, including a [redacted] with reactive airways. This [redacted] also loves to run, move, and play outside. But the air quality can be so dangerous for [redacted], especially, let alone for the rest of us Utahns.

Please see that policies are passed with improve our air quality. This is so critical to our health and well-being.

As an Oregon native, I'm used to grey skies in winter. But those green skies are CLEAN, helped by the rain and trees and geography. In Utah we lack that rain, those trees, and we have a unique geography which we must work with and still ensure our citizens' health.

Please use all your influence and your creativity in finding solutions!

Joy is the holy fire that keeps our purpose warm and our intelligence aglow.
