Good Evening Mr. Gunter-

As a native Utahn, and a current resident of Holladay, I have noticed our air quality worsen over the years. It has gotten so bad that I often look to escape the valley to find fresh air.

It is not a secret that as our air quality worsens, our health feels the effects.

While I love living here, I want to make sure I raise my family in a healthy environment and ask you to not only increase the amount of regulation, but also surpass industry standards so that we can live, work and play in an amazing state that has minimal pollutants affecting our air quality.

Whatever you do now will certainly have impacts for generations to come and therefore we need not to think about money or companies who pressure us to become more lenient with regulations, but rather stand up for what's right and go to bed each night knowing we fought for clean air and healthy living.
