DEQ Seeks Qualified Public to Serve on a Regulatory Board

Salt Lake City, Utah – The Utah Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) is seeking qualified individuals to serve on one of four of regulatory boards that are primarily responsible for rulemaking for the agency. These are 9 member boards made up of individuals with diverse experience and backgrounds.

As a result of legislation passed during the 2012 General Session of the Utah Legislature, changes were made to the make-up of the five boards that oversee DEQ's six Divisions – Air Quality, Radiation Control, Drinking Water, Water Quality, and Solid and Hazardous Waste. Each board has 9 open positions to be filled with representatives from government, industry, health professionals and community organizations. Governor Herbert makes the appointments, following Senate approval.

Applications must be submitted electronically through the following website: <http://www.utah.gov/governor/boards>.
