Ogden Railroad Yard Five-Year Review
Weber County, Utah

The Utah Department of Environmental Quality (UDEQ), Division of Environmental Response and Remediation (DERR), in cooperation with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), is conducting a Five-Year Review of the Ogden Railroad Yard site. The Ogden Railroad Yard site is located on the west side of Ogden, Utah, in Weber County.

The site includes 1,120 acres bounded by the Weber River, the Ogden River and Goode Lake. For almost 150 years, the area has been the location of railway operations. Spills and improper handling of hazardous substances resulted in contaminated groundwater, sediment, soil and sludge. EPA began cleanup efforts in 1994. Activities included soil removal, capping and land use restrictions. EPA and UDEQ oversee ongoing groundwater monitoring as well as maintenance of the Goode Lake cofferdam, vegetative cap, fencing, and land use restrictions.

What is a Five-Year Review? The purpose of a Five-Year Review is to determine whether or not cleanup and other actions taken at the site are protective of human health and the environment. The Five-Year Review will include a review of site documents, community interviews, and a site inspection to evaluate all remedy components as well as the status of land-use controls. Upon completion of the review, a report will be made available to the public by October 2021.
