Free Product Extraction System Installation
Bloomington Market
141 W. Brigham Road
St. George, Utah

Date of Distribution of Public Notice: March 20, 2024

Atlas Technical Consultants (Atlas), plans to begin remedial activities associated with the installation of a free product extraction system at the Bloomington Market retail petroleum outlet located at 141 W. Brigham Road, St. George, Utah.

The objective of remedial activities is to remove free phase gasoline present on the water table beneath the site. The remedial effort will require the installation of three recovery wells, a 6x8 foot remediation building (Tough Shed), and trenching. A free product pump will be installed in each well and the extraction pumps will be connected to the equipment via underground conveyance lines. The equipment shed will contain the electronic equipment that operates the pumps. The product removed will be stored in a 250-gallon capacity aboveground tank that will be emptied monthly or when necessary. The remediation system installation effort will likely take approximately three weeks and will begin on April 29, 2024, and should be completed by May 17, 2024.
