PURPOSE: To provide an opportunity to involve interested stakeholders and the public in matters related to the disposal of low-level radioactive waste in Utah. The two-day meeting will allow participants to learn and understand the essential components and parameters of a performance assessment with respect to low-level radioactive waste disposal.

The first day will be conducted as an educational session by providing an overview of performance assessments. The second day will then build on the overview in order for participants to effectively contribute by offering input and feedback during the second day discussions regarding the specific components of a performance assessment and related issues and key considerations.

Both days will be conducted under the direction of a facilitator.

LOCATION: Department of Environmental Quality
