

R307. Environmental Quality.

R307-502. Pneumatic Controllers Associated with Oil and Gas Operations.

R307-502-1. Purpose.

The purpose of R307-502 is to reduce emissions of volatile organic compounds from pneumatic controllers that are associated with oil and gas operations. The rule requires existing pneumatic controllers to meet the standards established for new controllers.

R307-502-2. Definitions.

(1) The definitions in 40 CFR 60, Subpart OOOO Standards of Performance for Crude Oil and Natural Gas Production, Transmission and Distribution that is incorporated by reference in R307-210 apply to R307-502.

(2) The following additional definition applies to R307-502.

“Existing pneumatic controller affected facility” means a pneumatic controller affected facility that was constructed, modified or reconstructed prior to October 15, 2013.

R307-502-3. Retrofit Requirements.

(1) Effective [January 1, 2015] all existing pneumatic controller affected facilities in Duchesne County or Uintah County shall meet the standards established for pneumatic controller affected facilities that are constructed, modified or reconstructed on or after October 15, 2013 as specified in 40 CFR 60, Subpart OOOO Standards of Performance for Crude Oil and Natural Gas Production, Transmission and Distribution that is incorporated by reference in R307-210.

(2) Effective [January 1, 2017] all existing pneumatic controller affected facilities in Utah shall meet the standards established for pneumatic controller affected facilities that are constructed, modified or reconstructed on or after October 15, 2013 as specified in 40 CFR 60, Subpart OOOO Standards of Performance for Crude Oil and Natural Gas Production, Transmission and Distribution that is incorporated by reference in R307-210.

R307-502-4. Documentation Required.

The owner or operator shall identify all existing pneumatic controller facilities that were replaced or retrofitted to meet the requirements of R307-502 in the annual report required under 40 CFR 60.5420.
