Regulatory History of TEAD-N

History of TEAD-N

On October 2, 1984, the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) proposed Tooele Army Depot North Area (TEAD) for inclusion on the National Priorities List (NPL). The facility was listed on the NPL on October 1, 1990. As a result, the EPA, State of Utah, and TEAD entered into a Federal Facilities Agreement (FFA) on September 16, 1991. In this agreement, 17 source areas, Nos. 5-9, 13, 17-18, 22-23, 31-33, 35-36, and 40-41) were designated as Comprehensive Environmental Response Compensation and Liability Act (CERCLA) action/source areas. These 17 sources areas were further grouped into seven operable units (OUs), OU 4 – OU 10. The remaining 29 Solid Waste Management Units (SWMUs) are covered under the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA) Corrective Action Permit (CAP), which was issued to TEAD by the State of Utah on January 7, 1991. Under the CAP, the SWMUs were divided into nine known release SWMUs and 20 suspected release SWMUs. Since that time, eight additional SWMUs have been identified for investigation under RCRA, bringing the total to 54 SWMUs identified on TEAD-N.

Guidelines for the remediation of hazardous constituents released from federal facilities are provided in Section 120 of CERCLA. Essentially, all guidelines, rules, regulations, and criteria carried out under CERCLA apply to federal facilities. In that context, environmental studies and remediation activities to be conducted at TEAD-N are governed by CERCLA under the review and approval of the EPA Region VIII and the State of Utah (the Division of Environmental Response and Remediation). The FFA specifies the responsibilities of each agency for the study and cleanup of waste sites at TEAD-N. The FFA also includes a schedule for the completion of each major phase of the CERCLA process. The FFA is attached to this Permit as Appendix VII-C.

The TEAD-N FFA (September 16, 1991) requires that the releases or threatened releases of hazardous substances, pollutants, or contaminants from known source areas and associated OUs identified in Attachment 1 of the TEAD-N FFA will be addressed pursuant to the TEAD-N FFA and CERCLA. See TEAD-N-FFA (September 16, 1991) Section 6.1.

Notwithstanding Section 5.3(b) of the TEAD-N FFA and pursuant to Section 6.4B of the TEAD-N FFA (September 16, 1991), “the obligations of the U.S. Army to maintain and comply with the corrective action and post-closure requirements of the Post-Closure Permit for the SWMUs specified in Attachment 2 [of the TEAD-N FFA] are not within the scope of [the TEAD-N FFA].” The TEAD-N FFA (September 16, 1991) further provides that the obligation to identify, investigate, and remediate any new releases or threatened releases of contaminants (i) from a hazardous waste activity, (ii) that is separate from a CERCLA OU, and (iii) is regulated under RCRA shall be pursuant to RCRA and the Utah Solid and Hazardous Waste Act and not within the scope of the TEAD-N FFA.

At the time that the parties signed the TEAD-N FFA, the TEAD-N SWMUs were segregated in groups based on whether releases of hazardous waste or hazardous constituents were known or suspected at the time that the Permittee identified the SWMUs. SWMUs with known releases were separated into Group 1 (permitted SWMUs), and Group 2 (SWMUs that were not permitted). SWMUs with suspected releases were placed into Group 3.

Pursuant to the provisions in the Post-Closure Permit (1991), the Permittee identified nine additional SWMUs with suspected releases (SWMUs 49 – 57) in 1993. Subsequently, the Permittee reorganized the SWMU groupings. The suspected release Group 3 SWMUs were divided into two groupings (Groups A and B) and the newly identified SWMUs were placed into Group C. SWMUs with known releases (Groups 1 and 2) were combined and relabeled Group KR.

Pursuant to the provisions in the Post-Closure Permit (1991), the Permittee identified one additional suspected release SWMU (SWMU 58) in 1998 and placed SWMU 58 into Group D. The Permittee redefined the boundaries of SWMU 58 in 2010, as described in the 2010 Groundwater Management Area (GWMA) Plan.

Portions of the installation underwent closure under Base Realignment and Closure (BRAC) actions. BRAC legislation passed in September 1993 specifying that the Army's maintenance and related missions had to cease at TEAD-N by September 1999. Current closure plans allow for the maintenance area to be utilized for industrial purposes by private firms or other government entities. A total of about 1,700 acres were transferred from TEAD-N under BRAC. The BRAC Property conveyance is subject to the Declaration of Covenants, Conditions, and Restrictions (CC&Rs) recorded January 6, 1999, attached to the deed conveying the BRAC Property as Attachment 24.

Table 1 lists all the SWMUs that have been identified at TEAD and the regulatory program under which they are being assessed or under which they have been clean closed or closed with controls.

Notes:

BRAC – Base Realignment and Closure

CA – Corrective Action

CERCLA - Comprehensive Environmental Response Compensation and Liability Act

DWMRC – Division of Waste Management and Radiation Control

EPA – United States Environmental Protection Agency

IC – Institutional Controls (Land Use Controls / Post Closure Permit)

Group 3 – sites meeting NFA and not carried forward to additional investigation

LTM – Long Term Monitoring

NFA – No Further Action (clean closure)

RCRA – Resource Conservation and Recovery Act

TBD – To Be Determined

UU/UE –Unrestricted exposure
