

30-Day Storage Extension Request for Hazardous Waste Generators

30-Day Storage Extension Requests

In accordance with Utah Administrative Code R315- 262-16(d) for small quantity generators (SQGs) and R315-262-17(b) for large quantity generators (LQGs), a generator may request a 30-day accumulation time limit extension for hazardous waste stored on site longer than the 90-day time frame for LQGs or 180 days (or 270 days if the waste must be transported a distance of 200 miles or more) for SQGs. The Director of the Division of Waste Management and Radiation Control may grant a 30-day extension to qualifying generators that may exceed their time limits due to unforeseen, temporary, and uncontrollable circumstances.

- Extensions may be granted on a case-by-case basis.

In order to determine if an extension can be granted, generators must submit a request including the following information:

- Generator name
- Facility address
- Mailing address
- Facility EPA ID number(s)
- Facility generator status
- Hazardous waste information including:
 - Waste codes
 - Waste description
 - Quantity (in Gal., Lbs., or Cubic Yards)
 - How the waste is stored (e.g., containers, tanks)
 - Accumulation start date

-Reason for extension request

-Additional protective practices implemented to ensure safe management of increased volumes of hazardous waste stored onsite.

The application for extension must be submitted prior to the expiration of the initial 90-day/180- day accumulation time limit for your generator category.
