The applicant is proposing to expand SR-30 between SR-23 and 1000 West in Logan City to address concerns with (1) decreased mobility due to increased traffic congestion during peak travel periods, (2) lack of roadway elements (shoulders, turn lanes, and curves) that meet current federal and state design standards for safety, (3) inability to adequately accommodate the high volume of freight trucks, (4) above-average accident rates and high frequency rollover accidents. The proposed project consists of a combination of four-, three-, and two-travel-lane segments. The project would include a separate bike path and reconstruction of a drainage ditch along the alignment.
